

Nora B. DiFelice, 89

Nora B. DiFelice, age 89 of Brooklyn, died Wednesday, Oct. 30, 2013, at the Brooklyn Community Estate. A funeral service was held at 2 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 2, at Kloster Funeral Home, Brooklyn, with Pastor Kalen Barkholtz officiating. Burial was in the Brooklyn Memorial Cemetery. Memorials may be contributed to Trinity Lutheran Church, rural Malcom.

Nora is survived by a brother, Delmar Ford (Arlene) of Brooklyn; a sister, Wilma Clausen of Clearwater, Fla.; and numerous nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Vincent DiFelice in 2009; five sisters, Verna, Mary, Reta, Eula Jean, and Virginia; and a brother, Harold.

Nora Betty Ford was born Dec. 10, 1923 in rural Riverside, the daughter of Lester and Loretta Michel Ford. She was the seventh child of ten. She received her education in the Johnson county schools until her family moved to Luzerne in 1934. They relocated to Brooklyn in 1938, and she graduated from Brooklyn High School in 1942. The family operated Ford's Café in Brooklyn for many years. Following graduation, Nora went to airline school and was employed with Capital Airlines, now United Airlines, in Alexandria, Va. She married Vincent DiFelice on Nov. 26, 1955. The couple resided in the D.C. area. Following the death of Vincent in 2009, Nora returned to Brooklyn to be close to her family.

Nora enjoyed her childhood by playing softball on Sunday afternoons with her family. They had a full team with just the family members.

She enjoyed caning furniture, crossword puzzles, and board games. She was an avid Washington Redskins football fan. She also traveled to many locations in the world with her husband. She attended Trinity Lutheran Church in rural Malcom.

Online condolences may be extended to the family at www.klosterfuneralhome.

PCR 11-6-2013