Lanny Eugene Wilcox, the son of LaVaughn and Glenna (Meyer) Wilcox was born on April 11, 1939, and so began the life of the man that people were proud to call their husband, dad, brother, grandpa, uncle, cousin and friend. Lanny was baptized and confirmed at St. John's Lutheran Church in Victor. He began farming at an early age on the family farm. On June 25, 1966, Lanny married Diane K. Voelker of Cedar Rapids. They made their home on a farm near Deep River. He continued to farm and was later employed by Elwood Implement of Millersburg and Tanger Outlet Mall in Williamsburg. Lanny was a member of the Peace Lutheran Church in Camdenton, Mo. He enjoyed boating, off road trail riding, snowmobiling and traveling the Utah mountains. Lanny's greatest joy, however, were his children, grandchildren and new great grandson.

Lanny is survived by his wife, Diane of Sunrise Beach, Mo.; his daughter, Shamon (Duc) Webber of Keene, Texas; two sons, Sean (Lindsay) Wilcox of Oskaloosa and Shayne (Lindsey) Wilcox of Montezuma; four grandchildren, Brittany and P.J. Webber of Keene, Texas and Taylor and Gavin Wilcox of Montezuma; one great-grandson, Grayson Moore of Keene, Texas; two sisters, Cynthia Barrera of Grinnell and Linda (Howard) Huedepohl of South Amana; a sister-in-law, Dawn Uelze of Lawrenceville, Ga., and several nieces, nephews and friends.

Lanny was preceded in death by his parents and two siblings, Ricky and Bonnie Wilcox.
