Sarah Jane Farr, 90

Sarah Jane Farr died on Friday, Oct. 6, 2006, in her home after an extended illness.

Memorial services were held on Tuesday, Oct. 10, at the Methodist Church in Victor with the Rev. Jim Davis officiating. The organist was Fred Stiefel.

Sarah was born June 28, 1916 to Clarence Engledow and Maude (Miller) Engledow in Waterloo. She was married to William E. Farr on April 10, 1942.

She served as a mother with the Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, was a school room mother, church volunteer, a member of Eastern Iowa Ladies Aid and helped to train church women's clubs to run their own groups. She was a past member for 40 years of the First Congregational Church in Cedar Rapids, past regent of DAR, past president of Women's Association, and past president of Parler City Questors and Mays Island Questors. She worked with King's Daughters, volunteered at St. Lukes Hospital doing clerical work, and trained to be a chaplain to patients. She was on the board of Seminole Valley Farmhouse in Cedar Rapids. She also was involved in Eastern Star, Boceyant, and was an election poll head.

She is survived by her husband, Bill Farr; her daughter Cathy (John) Curran; her son, Richard (Suzi) Farr; her grandchildren, Abbie (Ken) Miller, Andyi Farr, Brian Wolf, Kelly (Heather) Wolf, and Ashley Wolf; her great-grandchildren, Alyssa, Alexis, Ben, Brody, and Blake; a sister, Mary Davidson; and a brother, John Engledow; and nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents; and great-grandson, Tyler Wolf. Sarah's body will be donated to the Georgia Medical University Hospital. She will be greatly missed by friends and family.
