

Isabel M. Brown (DALE)

Isabel M. Brown, 84, of the Mayflower died Wednesday, Jan. 22, at Iowa Methodist Medical Center in Des Moines.

Memorial services were conducted Monday morning at the United Church of Christ - Congregational, with the Rev. Bob Molsberry officiating. Organist was Alice Renaud.

The body was deeded to the University of Iowa College of Medicine.

The daughter of Alexander Ramsay and Eliza Jane Miller MacKenzie, she was born Jan. 11, 1913, in K'aiyuan, Manchuria, and later moved to Glasgow, Scotland. She attended the University of Edinburgh and St. Colm's Missionary College, both in Scotland. She returned to China as a missionary and taught school for several years. She moved to Toronto, Ontario, in 1941 and worked as a secretary with the World Student Christian Federation.

She was married to the Rev. Dale D. Brown June 19, 1943, in Toronto, and they moved to Scotland where she continued working with the World Student Christian Federation. They moved to Iowa in 1949 and lived in Madrid, Eagle Grove, Atlantic and Ottumwa before moving to Grinnell in 1988. While in Ottumwa, she worked as a social worker for the Iowa Department of Human Services, retiring in 1979.

She was a member of the United Church of Christ - Congregational, and she was active with the Women's Fellowship and served as choir director. She was a member of the League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women and Civic Music Association. She was a former president of the Ottumwa Chapter of the NAACP and was also active in the local PTA and the Democratic Party.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Sheena Thomas of Des Moines; three sons, David and Alexander, both of Denver; and Robert Brown of Tacoma, Wash.; one sister, Frances MacKenzie of Glasgow; and eight grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents.

H-R January 30, 1997

Isabel M. Brown

Isabel M. Brown, 84, of the Mayflower died Wednesday, Jan. 22, at Iowa Methodist Medical Center in Des Moines.

Memorial services were conducted Monday morning at the United Church of Christ - Congregational, with the Rev. Bob Molsberry officiating. Organist was Alice Renaud.

The body was deeded to the University of Iowa College of Medicine.

The daughter of Alexander Ramsay and Eliza Jane Miller MacKenzie, she was born Jan. 11, 1913, in Kaiyuan, Manchuria, and later moved to Glasgow, Scotland. She attended the University of Edinburgh and St. Colm's Missionary College, both in Scotland. She returned to China as a missionary and taught school for several years. She moved to Toronto, Ontario, in 1941 and worked as a secretary with the World Student Christian Federation.

She was married to the Rev. Dale D. Brown June 19, 1943, in Toronto, and they moved to Scotland where she continued working with the World Student Christian Federation. They moved to Iowa in 1949 and lived in Madrid, Eagle Grove, Atlantic and Ottumwa before moving to Grinnell in 1988. While in Ottumwa, she worked as a social worker for the Iowa Department of Human Services, retiring in 1979.

She was a member of the United Church of Christ - Congregational, and she was active with the Women's Fellowship and served as choir director. She was a member of the League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women and Civic Music Association. She was a former president of the Ottumwa Chapter of the NAACP and was also active in the local PTA and the Democratic Party.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Sheena Thomas of Des Moines; three sons, David and Alexander, both of Denver; and Robert Brown of Tacoma, Wash.; one sister, Frances MacKenzie of Glasgow; and eight grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her parents.