

DIED.

CLARK.—At Millstone, N. J., July 29, Mrs. Mary E. Clark, wife of A. B. Clark, formerly of Clark's Mills N. Y. Mrs. Clark, who was a sister of Mrs. H. B. Scott, and mother of Mrs. H. M. Hamilton, formerly of Grinnell, will be remembered by many who met her upon her visits here. She was the mother of four children, all of whom, with her husband, survive her. Mr. and Mrs. Clark celebrated their golden wedding last year with their unbroken family. Those who knew her intimately felt that her Christian character had ripened into new consecration and beauty during the later years of her life. A friend writes of her: "Her benevolent nature made her active in every good cause, and her last day's work was preparing articles to be sent to the cyclone sufferers at Grinnell. She retired in usual health, after an evening spent cheerfully with her family, and shortly after passed away, dying without pain—translated as it were—with the same pleasant smile peculiar to her life lingering on her face."

A. B.