

H-R November 28, 1983

Mrs. F.A. Drown, 95, dies in Illinois; widow of Dr. Drown

A former longtime Kellogg resident, Mrs. F.A. (Zola) Drown, 95, died last week at the Jackson County Nursing Home in Murphysboro, Ill.

Memorial services were to be held at Our Silent City Cemetery in Kellogg following cremation. The Huffman Funeral Home of Carbondale, Ill., was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Drown was proceeded in death by her husband, Dr. F.A. Drown, who passed away in December 1976; and by four brothers, two sisters and her parents.

Survivors include a daughter, Dorothy Trueblood of Carbondale; and a son, Hugh, of Novato, Calif.; five grandchildren; three nieces; and several nephews.

Daughter of Amos and Annette Bronson Craven, she was born Oct. 13, 1888, in Jasper County. She was graduated from Kellogg High School in 1905, and attended the school of music Grinnell College.

She was married to Dr. Drown on June 25, 1919, at Kellogg.

H-R April 19, 1984

Memorial for Mrs. Drown

Memorial services for Mrs. Zola Drown, formerly of Kellogg, were held Wednesday at Our Silent City Cemetery in Kellogg with the Rev. Trevor Davis-Hajek, pastor of the Kellogg United Methodist Church, officiating. Services also were conducted by Newton Chapter 100, Order of Eastern Star, of which she was a 50-year member.

Mrs. Drown was the widow of the late Dr. F.A. Drown, long-time Kellogg veterinarian.

Among survivors are her daughter Dorothy Trueblood, Carbondale, Ill., and a son Hugh, Novato, Calif.