Funeral services for Mr. Goodwin were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the James-Schalinske Funeral Home, with the Rev. Philip J. Ramstad, pastor of the United Church of Christ-Congregational, officiating. Organist was Edward H. Bohstedt, and pallbearers were John R. Anderson, Frank L. Brown, Clarence Doud, Melvin Gauley, Harold Jones and Eugene Slaven. Burial was at Hazelwood Cemetery.

Lodge rites were conducted by Ed Brand, noble grand; Harry Bitcon, chaplain; and members of Odd Fellows Lodge No. 358, Grinnell.

Should friends desire, memorials in Mr. Goodwin's name may be made to the coronary care unit at Grinnell General Hospital.

The son of James and Florence Smith Goodwin, he was born Sept. 8, 1919, in Des Moines, where he attended public schools. He lived in Des Moines until 1950, when he moved to Grinnell. He had been employed by Morrison-Shults Manufacturing Co., DeLong Sportswear, and for five years had been night watchman at Ahrens Manufacturing Co.

On Sept. 16, 1960, he was married to Josephine Hanson in Grinnell.

Mr. Goodwin was a member of the United Church of Christ-Congregational, the Odd Fellows Lodge and Encampment of Odd Fellows.

Survivors include his wife, Josephine; one sister, Mrs. Martin (Elizabeth) O'Connor of Grinnell; and one brother, James E. Goodwin of Ames. He was preceded in death by his parents and one sister, Virginia, who died in infancy.
