

5-25-1905
—It is with great regret that we chronicle the news which has been received here of the death of Mrs. E. M. Hathaway at the home of O. D. Herendeen at West Farmington, N. Y., on May 19. The funeral services were held last Sunday at that place where interment also took place. The deceased was 64 years of age and leaves many friends here who will learn of her death with great sorrow. For many years Mrs. Hathaway was one of the prominent women of this city taking part in many public movements for the betterment of the town. She was a prominent member of the Ladies Cemetery Association and a well known member of some of the women's clubs of this city. She was always a kind hearted, good, Christian woman, devoted to her family and friends. Prior to leaving this city a few years ago, she had been in poor health and the news of her death comes as no surprise.