Mother Hockey
Had Great Pride
In Her Family

Speaking of Mother Hockey's great pride in her family at her memorial service Thursday afternoon at the Steffy Funeral Home, Rev. George Snyder said her greatest remembrance would be in the hearts of the children "who can look back with pride and satisfaction for the life in their early home." He pointed out her love for her children and grand children and told of her attitude of complete acceptance with the experience of death as a part of God's program.

Miss Alice Underwood played the selections and accompanied Mrs. Vincent Johnson as she sang "Rock of Ages" and "Ivory Palaces."

Interment was in the family lot in Jackson Township cemetery. Six grandsons were casket bearers. They were Richard and Donald Hockey, Junior Hudson, LaVerne Tish, Eldon Thompson and Darwin Quarton.

Susannah, daughter of Peninah and Jacob Good, was born in Mahaska county, Oct. 19, 1870, and died Feb. 6, at 91 years of age.

She attended rural school and later was engaged as a housekeeper and did some practical nursing. Mrs. Hockey was a member of the Montezuma Methodist church.

On Mar. 29, 1903, she was united in marriage with James Hockey. She was the mother of seven children. They made their home on a farm near Montezuma. In 1921, they moved into town. After Mr. Hockey's death in 1950, she maintained her home as long as her health permitted. For several years she has been cared for in nursing homes.

She is survived by her children, Alva, Oskaloosa; Mabel Boren, Grundy Center; Jacob, Waterloo; Esther Moredock, Grinnell; Geneva Tish, Brooklyn; Walter and Kenneth, Montezuma; 28 grandchildren, several great-grandchildren; a brother, John Good, Davenport, other relatives and many friends.
