

James Honn services held

James F. Honn, 70, of Holiday Lake, Brooklyn, died of a heart attack Friday, May 27, at Grinnell General Hospital.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m. Tuesday at St. James Lutheran Church in Victor, with the Rev. Michael H. Holm officiating. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery, Monticello, with the McAninch-Fremming Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Memorials may be directed to the funeral home.

The son of Henry Franklin and Mattie Beatrice Mills Honn, he was born May 20, 1918, at Sharpsburg, Iowa. He was married to DeLita Folkerts Dec. 20, 1939, at Anamosa.

For 28 years, Mr. Honn was employed at Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. in Des Moines. He served with the U.S. Army in the Pacific during World War II. Mr. and Mrs. Honn moved to Holiday Lake in 1980.

He was a member of St. James Lutheran Church and the Brooklyn-Victor Country Club.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Tammy Cook of Runnells and Cynda Yoerg of Marietta, Ga.; two sons, Larry of Long Beach, Calif., and Lane of Alamosa, Colo.; 10 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and a sister, Kay Jenkins of Mesa, Ariz.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers, Henry Jr. and Kenneth.