Goldie B. Lowery, 66, of Prairie City, formerly of Gilman, died Saturday morning at Clearview Manor in Prairie City.

Funeral services were conducted at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at the Smith Funeral Home, with the Rev. Morris Hay of the Hickory Grove E.U.B. Church officiating. Organist was Barbara Lien, and pallbearers were Fritz Clay, Terry Housman, Harold McIlrath, William Shuler, Rick Thompson and Harold Wunn. Burial was at Hickory Grove Cemetery west of Newburg.

The daughter of Thomas R. and Sarah Westerfield Thompson, she was born Nov. 19, 1915, in Tama County near Gilman.
She attended Gilman schools.

On Dec. 18, 1931, she was married to Frederick L.
Lowery at Marshalltown. The couple lived in Gilman. Mrs.

Lowery was a former member of the Rebekah Lodge of Gilman and was active with the Gilman P.T.A. She suffered a stroke in 1977 and had spent the past four years in nursing homes at Baxter and Prairie City.

She is survived by her mother, Sarah Thompson of Gilman; her children, Ronald D. Lowery of Vermillion, S.D., Sondra Blake of Bakersfield, Calif., and Christina Hatfield of Newton; six grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; two brothers, Roy G. Thompson of Iowa City and Thomas R.
Thompson of Marshalltown; and one sister, Dorothy Mairs of Gilman. She was preceded in death by her father; her husband; one son, Melvin; and one brother.
