DIED
John Moler

Montezuma lost one of its leading citizens when John Moler passed away last Sunday morning, following an illness of slightly over a week. He was a successful business man and was always interested in anything that was for the benefit of the community. For six years, beginning in the late nineties, he served with distinction as a member of the county board of supervisors, and he also served on the town council. Hundreds of friends all over the county will learn of his death with sincere regret.
