

Horace Macy Of 4-14-1931 Lynnville Dies

(By a Staff Correspondent)

Lynnville, Ia., April 14, Special:

Horace Cannon Macy, son of Lilburn and Martha Macy, was born at Spiceland, Ind., Nov. 29, 1868.

He came from Indiana with a brother and cousin in a covered wagon when he was twelve years old, and has lived in Lynnville ever since excepting seven years spent at Iowa Falls.

He was married to Anna Tandy, Nov. 7, 1900. To them were born Lilburn H. of Sully, and Reuben of Iowa City.

Mr. Macy passed away at his home after a month's illness, April 9, 1931, aged 62 years, 4 months and 10 days.

There are left to mourn his loss beside his wife, two sons, two grandchildren, Margaret Ann and Kenneth, five of his brothers and sisters, Charles G. of Lynnville, Lenora Forscyth of Colfax, Henry M. of Des Moines, Grace Forscyth of Orient, Wash., and Walter E. of Portland, Ore.

His father and mother and three sisters, Ida Pemberton, Alice Newby and Emma King preceded him in death.

Mr. Macy had a birthright membership in the Friend's church, and when he was married he and his wife joined the Lynnville local church together where their service has been most consistent and faithful through all the years. He was not a man who could easily express his feelings in public, but the life he lived among his fellows has been rarely Christian, and the number of men who have offered their service during the weeks of his illness is a tribute to that living.

For the past eight years and more he has been caretaker of the church he loved, and the faithfulness of that service is a shining monument to his character.

Funeral services were held at the Friend's church, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Willard Reynolds and a former pastor, Rev. Waldo Reece. A mixed quartet composed of Rev. Willard Reynolds, Harlan Meredith, Mrs. A. T. Gifford and Mrs. Harvey Gause sang "Face to Face," and "Have Thine Own Way." Mrs. Harvey Gause and Willard Reynolds sang "When I Look in His Face." Palbearers were L. T. Gause, C. O. Macy, Harlan Macy, Lewis Scull, Harold Ratcliff and Roy Younkin. Burial was in the Friend's cemetery east of town. Friends and relatives from out of town who attended the funeral were:
