Mrs. Julia Macy, 92, Of Lynnville, Dies Saturday Evening

Mrs. Julia A. Macy, 92, of Lynnville, died at the Nelson Manor Home in Newton Saturday evening.

Mrs. Macy had resided at Lynnville all her life except the past year at Nelson Manor. Surviving are three sons — Earl and Howard of Lynnville, and Francis of Red Oak. Her late husband, E. B. Macy, was co-founder of Macy Brothers, Inc., 76 years ago at Lynnville, and of the Macy Brothers Exchange Bank, later the Lynnville First State Bank. Mrs. Macy was member of the Lynnville Friends church and was a 50 year and charter member of the Order of Eastern Star at Lynnville.

Three sons preceded her in death. They were Roscoe, Russell, and Dwight, and one granddaughter, Helen Jane Macy Stevens, who died this past summer.

Funeral services will be held at the Howard Macy residence, the old family home, in Lynnville on Tuesday afternoon at 2:00.

The ministers handling the service will be the Rev. Charles O. Whitely, Peter Schuler, and William Oberlander. The Harden Funeral Home of New Sharon is in charge of arrangements.

Contributions may be made to the Heart Fund.
