Louise E. Hahn, 100

Louise E. Hahn was born on Oct. 3, 1908, in Brooklyn, a daughter of Benjamin F. and Ion Shannon Torrance. She grew up in the Brooklyn community and graduated from Brooklyn High School in 1927. She married Lloyd E. Davidson on June 22, 1936. Louise lived in Marengo, Aurora, Ill., in California, Kellogg, and later in North English. She taught school and worked in retail sales. She was later united in marriage to Leland Claude Hahn on Aug. 21, 1958, in Greeley, Colo. They owned and operated a locker in Kellogg for 13 years, retiring in 1970. Louise enjoyed reading. She became a resident of the English Valley Care Center in North English in June 2000. Louise died following a short illness on Tuesday, Dec. 2, 2008, at the English Valley Care Center. She shared the excitement of her 100th birthday with all of her closest relatives on Oct. 3, 2008, at the English Valley Care Center.

She is survived by a daughter Judy (Dave) Hergesheimer of Thousand Oaks, Calif.; stepdaughters Johnette (Gary) Timm of Guernsey, and Linda (Lester) York of Iowa Falls; a stepson Winston (LaVonne) Hahn of Atoka, Tenn.; two granddaughters, Anne Judge and Leslie Martinez; six step-grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren.

Louise was preceded in death by her husband, Leland, in January 1998; an infant son, Terry Davidson; sisters, Esther Averill and Phyllis Hall.

A Celebration of Life memorial service was held at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the Powell Funeral Home and Cremation Service in North English. The Rev. James Stout officiated. Burial was in the North English Cemetery.
