Farrell was born Oct. 11, 1932, in Grinnell, the daughter of Bryan and Lucy Trease Davis. She was raised in Grinnell and received her education in the Grinnell school district.

She was married to Donald Halterman and they had two children. On March 22, 1966, she was united in marriage with Eugene Dayton in Kirksville, Mo. The couple lived on a farm southwest of Grinnell for a few years and in 1968 moved to their current farm north of New Sharon. In addition to raising their own children they also raised three grandsons.

Farrell was employed for her mother-in-law at the Lone Elm Nursing Home in Grinnell for many years and after her marriage to Eugene helped with farm chores including milking cows. She later was employed at Friendship Manor in Grinnell and then at the Malcom Locker. She retired in 1994.

She was a volunteer at the Malcom American Legion for many years, and enjoyed attending dances in the area and listening and dancing to the music. She was an avid fan of All-Star wrestling and the WWE, and enjoyed watching soap operas, playing bingo, crocheting and gardening.

Survivors include her husband, Eugene of New Sharon; her children, Sharon Blanke of New Sharon, Barbara Boots and Sally Mills of Grinnell and Garry Dayton of Montezuma; one brother, Earl Davis of Malcom; 18 grandchildren; 43 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

She was preceded in death by her parents; one daughter, Lucy "Tootie"; one son, Randy Dayton; one brother, Albert Davis; and five half-brothers, Ray, Glenn, Bert, Clyde and Dale Phipps.
