

OBITUARIES

Courtney Christine Moore
Apr. 15, 1991 - Apr. 7, 2016

Courtney Moore, 24, of What Cheer died Thursday, Apr. 7. Funeral services are at 10:00 am on Thursday, Apr. 14 at the Holland-Coble Funeral Home. Burial will be in the McFarlan Cemetery at What Cheer. Visitation was on Wednesday, with family present from 4:00 to 8:00 pm. In lieu of flowers the family strongly prefers memorial contributions be made to the Courtney Moore Memorial Fund for her daughters' education. Friends may sign the online guestbook at www.hollandcoblefuneralhomes.com.

Courtney Christine Moore was born Apr. 15, 1991 in Mount Pleasant, the daughter of Jeffery Moore and Melissa Pool. She was a 2009 graduate of Tri-County High School. Courtney worked at Carriker Ford, Long Horn Saloon, the KT and most recently for Cambridge Investment Research. She was a very social person who loved being around people. As a strong independent woman Courtney would not hesitate to speak her piece. Her smile would light up a room and her happiness was nothing short of contagious.

Above all, being a mother came before everything else. Courtney's world revolved around her two daughters.

She is preceded in death by her great grandparents: Melvin and Doris Pool, Ella Williamson, Ann Honts and Bernice Aller; and her uncle Bob Matlocks.

Courtney is survived by her parents: Melissa (Michael) Clarahan of What Cheer and Jeffery (Jill) Moore of Washington; her two daughters, Kynsley Moore and Bryley Garber; her grandparents: Eileen McBeth of Webster, Marvin (Linda) Pool of Yalaha, Fla., Terri Stone of Washington and Ray (Peg) Moore of Stronghurst, Ill.; her five sisters: Teresa Moore, Shellby Hammes and McKenzie Hammes all of What Cheer and Alexis and Jaedyn Moore of Washington; three brothers: Jake Moore of Altoona and Landyn and Layne Moore of Washington.
