

Bruce Henry

GH 10/15/1918

Bruce Henry, a young man from Centerville, who boarded at Will Raymond's while he worked at the canning factory died yesterday of the flu. He had gone home after the season closed but returned over a week ago to go to work again. He was not able to work, had the flu then and returned to Centerville where he died yesterday. His was the first case of flu at the Raymond home.
