FORMER GRINNELL DORM CHEF DEAD

Special to The Democrat

Grinnell, Ia., April 30.—Oscar Monroe, 55, Keyesville, Mo., proprietor of a restaurant there since he left Grinnell in 1934, died suddenly. He was stricken after preparing a large dinner and died a few hours later. He was head cook at the Grinnell college men's dormitories 18 years.

From the notes of Dan Kaiser, Grinnell historian:

Oscar Monroe (born in Missouri 1882?-1937) was another college cook; his wife, Addie, served as "pantry woman" at the college for some years. Monroe died in Keyesville, Missouri at an unknown date in April 1937. This death notice appeared in the Quad-City Times, 30 April 1937.
