

Daisy L. Slaymaker, 91

Private graveside services for Daisy L. Slaymaker, 91, Ladora, were held Monday, Jan. 29, at the Ohio Cemetery, Ladora. She died Thursday evening, Jan. 25, 2007, at Marengo Memorial Hospital following an extended illness.

Casket bearers were Neil Peska, Duane Peska, Justin O'Hara and Brett Wright. Kloster Funeral Home, Marengo, was in charge of arrangements. Condolences may be left at www.klosterfuneralhome.com.

Daisy Lorraine Slaymaker was born May 23, 1915, in Iowa County, the daughter of Oscar and Pauline Staheli Albert. She graduated from Ladora High School.

She married Lawrence G. Slaymaker on Aug. 28, 1944, in Dixon, Ill. She was an avid Hawkeye fan. She enjoyed reading, gardening and dining out. She looked forward to reading the newspaper and discussing current events. She was a member of the Ladora Methodist Church.

Slaymaker is survived by two daughters and their husbands, Carol and Dwaine Peska of Ladora, and Sharal and Rick O'Hara of Cedar Rapids; five grandchildren and their spouses, Duane Peska and Neil Peska, both Ladora; Nicole O'Hara and husband Kenny Oliver, and Justin and Jenny O'Hara, all of Cedar Rapids, and Melissa and Brett Wright of Malcom; and five great-grandchildren, Tucker and Tanner Wright, Rhain, Braxton and Kaylee Oliver.

She was preceded in death by her husband; her parents; and one sister, Lillian McAninch.

BC - Jan 31, 2007