Ilene Estella Meyer was born June 21, 1921 in rural Blairstown, the ninth child of William and Johanna (Kluss) Niebuhr. She attended country school and was graduated from Blairstown High School.

Ilene was baptized, confirmed and married in the Grace Lutheran Church in Blairstown. In 1941, she was married to Roy Meyer and was a homemaker and helpmate to her husband on the Deep River Century farm, until his death in 1984. They raised four children there. After marriage, she became a member of St. John's Lutheran Church in rural Victor where she was a member of the Ladies Aid. Ilene helped make and tie many quilts for World Relief and wherever they were needed locally. In January of 1985, she moved to her home in Deep River and enjoyed making crafts and gifts for family and friends.

She also enjoyed attending her grandchildren's activities. Ilene was a volunteer for the Deep River-Millersburg School for 23 years and a member of the Deep River Legion Auxiliary.

Her legacy will be cherished by her children, Willard (Mary) Meyer of Pella, Susan (Dave) Stevenson of Deep River and Don (Julie) Meyer of Deep River; a daughter-in-law, Alana Meyer of Deep River; her grandchildren, Kevin (Martha) Meyer, Angela (Eric) Buckner, Darrin (Melanie) Meyer, Monica (Todd) Wali, Sara (Rick) Rawlings, Amy Stevenson (Keegan Murphy), Adam (Melissa) Meyer and Ashley (Bryan) Buck; her great grandchildren
