try during the Korean Conflict, with the United States Air Force.

Dwight still farmed the family farm. He devoted his life to his family and friends and was a member of St. Andrew's Lutheran Church near Sully. He was active in his church, enjoying nature, the out of doors, his garden and his dog.

Dwight died on Tuesday morning, March 24, 2009, at the Grinnell Regional Medical Center. He was preceded in death by his parents; a sister in infancy, Virginia; and his brother Marvin Rohrdanz.

Those left to honor Dwight's memory include his brother, Carroll Rohrdanz of rural Killduff, his nephew, Terry Rohrdanz; his cousins; and his many great friends and neighbors.
