

Warren E. Bailey Jr.

Warren E. (Bud) Bailey Jr., Cicero, Ill., formerly of Grinnell, died of cancer Sunday, June 14, in Weiss Memorial Hospital, Chicago, Ill.

Services were held Thursday, June 18, in St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Tama, with burial in the church cemetery. A memorial fund in his name has been established at Mason-Hand Funeral Home, Tama.

He was born Aug. 4, 1927, in Grinnell, the son of Warren and Stella Hansen Bailey. He received his education in the Grinnell schools and after high school graduation enlisted in the United States Navy June 25, 1945, receiving an honorable discharge July 21, 1946. On Oct. 30, 1948, he was united in marriage at Tama with Mary Gayle Dolash of rural Tama. They resided in Grinnell where he worked for eight years for the Grinnell Herald-Register. He later moved to Dubuque where he worked for three years for the Dubuque Herald. He later became a self-employed traveling printer, working in Colorado, Texas, New Mexico and Chicago where he worked 16 years as a printer. For the past nine years he had been a Cook County deputy sheriff in Maywood, Ill.

He was a member of St. Francis of Rome Catholic Church, Cicero; the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the International Typographical Union and the law enforcement Teamsters' Union.

He is survived by his wife Mary Gayle Bailey of Cicero and one sister Donna Yancy, Mesa, Ariz. He was preceded in death by his parents.