

OBITUARIES

George W. Billick

George W. Billick, father of Mrs. C.J. Sutphin of Brooklyn, died May 4 at a San Diego, Calif., hospital, where he had been a patient 10 days.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church in Brooklyn May 9 at 2 p.m. by the Rev. C.W. Woollard. The I.O.O.F. lodge, of which he had been a member for over 60 years, had charge of services.

Interment was in the Haven cemetery, with C.F. Williamson, Wallace Edelen, Carl Reiche, Harley Burch, W.F. Ormiston and Evan Johnston serving as pallbearers.

George Weaver Billick, son of George and Henrietta Heath Billick, was born Sept. 28, 1880, in the Kent neighborhood, north of Brooklyn, and died at San Diego, Calif., May 4, 1964.

Nov. 11, 1904, he was married to Mary Agnes Graham.

The couple had three children. Most of his life was spent in Brooklyn, as he was only two years old when his family moved to town. A few years were spent in North Dakota and Minnesota, and the last 15 years in California.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Sutphin, and a son, Wilford, of Solana Beach, Calif., five grandchildren, four great grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah McAninch, of Belle Plaine.

He was preceded in death by his wife, one son, Wayne, two grandsons, a brother and three sisters.
