Walter Bonewell.

Montezuma Republican: Walter Gorewell died Tuesday night at 11 home in Adel, following a few days illness from typhoid-parvumonia. Monday, in response to a telegram announcing his serious illness, his uncle and aunt, Ward Foreman and Mrs. Charles Gorsuch, and cousin, Harold Bann, went to Adel. Walter grew better Tuesday but in the evening his condition was worse and the end came.

Walter Bonewell was born in Macon, Ga. about 22 years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Corbin Bonewell, moved from here to Adel several years ago and still reside there. The parents are most estimable and highly respected citizens and Walter was a splendid specimen of young manhood, tall of promise. About a year ago he was married to a young lady in Adel. For a time the deceased was a member of a quartette traveling for the Millard Lyceum Bureau. He was a fine bass singer. Later, however, he had been working in a drug store. Beside the father and mother, wife, one sister, Mrs. Earl Smith of Knoxville, survives.
