

KIMBERLY BREEDEN

Kimberly A. Breeden, 20-month-old granddaughter of Helen Means of Greenfield and the late Kenneth Means, formerly of Brooklyn, died of meningitis at Mercy Medical Center, Des Moines, January 17, 1989. She was the daughter of Rob and Mary Breeden of Indianola.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon, Jan. 19, at the Martensdale Community Church with interment at the Fontanelle Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Overton Funeral Home.

Also surviving in addition to the parents, are a brother, Matthew, a sister, Amye Breeden; Mrs. Means of Greenfield, and the paternal grandparents, Robert and Ina Breeden of Gowrie.

IN MEMORY —

Kimberly A. Breeder PRECIOUS ONE

Into the arms of Jesus
Our precious one's been taken,
God called in the dawning hour
She was gone — she didn't say

Kimberly Ann, who was oh, so Seemed always to smile —
ever to cry —

Though we're missing her here
already,

She's in heaven and we must
why.

A beautiful rose for God's garden
He's tenderly picked early the Tho' she's now safe in the Jesus.

Her lingering fragrance — still for us here.
