OBITUARY.

JAMES CLINTON BURNSIDE.

At a little after noon on Tuesday the earthly life of James Clinton Burnside ended and his life in a better and brighter world began. He was a young man of strength and vigor, and had bright prospects of a useful life before him. Among his associates there were none more popular and in his business relations none more reliable or trustworthy. His cheerful face and manly form will long be remembered by those who were accustomed to meet him in transacting business with the U. S. Express Company with which he has been connected for the past year and a half.

Clinton was born in Scott county on the 14th of Sept., 1878, and moved with his parents to the vicinity of Grinnell on the last day of the year 1885, and has resided in the vicinity ever since. He was a High School pupil four years, graduating with the class of 1897. It was in the High School that he first formed friendships with the young people of Grinnell, and it was there that he showed the traits of character which endeared him to all, both pupils and teachers, and fitted him for a life of usefulness, and young men who had learned to love him in the High School, tenderly carried him to his last resting place.
