

Mrs. Anna Child
Cox Dies In
10-24-1933
Seattle, Wash.

(RICHARD)

A telegram received Saturday from Alice Child Felix, 7017 15th N. E., Seattle, Wash., announced the passing of her mother, Mrs. Anna Child Cox, of Seattle, on October 20.

Death came after months of illness following an operation for a brain tumor.

Mrs. Cox will be remembered here as Anna Child, former wife of Clinton Child. During the years of 1919 and '20, she was a student in the School of Music, and appeared in several roles in plays and light operas given by the town and college. That summer she traveled with a company on the Kieth-Vawter Chautauqua circuit.

Anna was well known in Seattle also as a singer of rare talent and was often heard with appreciation for her beautiful voice which was heard to advantage with an orchestral accompaniment.

Her happy, genial personality won her friends everywhere, and she was most generous in contributing to the happiness of others thru her musical talent whenever asked to do so.

She heaves to mourn her loss two brothers, her husband, Richard Cox, her daughter, Alice Child Felix, wife of Maynard Felix, and a baby grand-daughter, Patricia.

Besides her immediate family, she has a large group of more distant relatives and friends in Grinnell and elsewhere, who will hear with a keen sense of loss of the apparently premature passing of one of Earth's bright spirits.
