

Davis rites held in Idaho

Clyde William Davis, 47, of Eastport, Id., died at the medical center in Spokane, Wa., early Tuesday, Nov. 8, following a four-month illness.

Funeral services for Clyde W. Davis were held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 12, at Grandview Cemetery.

The son of William and Margaret Cummings Davis, he grew up in Columbus, Ohio, receiving his education at East Fultonham and Zanesville. Following his graduation from high school, he entered military service and served in the Korean War until he received his discharge. He was associated with various railroads in the east and midwest areas of the country.

On Sept. 3, 1960, he married Terry Shope in Malcom. The couple moved to Gresham, Or., where he attended college. He and his family returned to Ohio, and then moved back to Oregon, where he joined the Union Pacific Railroad as clerk and telegrapher.

Davis commuted from Eastport to Spokane, where he also worked as a clerk.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Scott, of Eastport; his mother, Margaret Davis of East Fultonham, Ohio; three brothers, Melvin Butts of East Fultonham, and Clement and Joe Butts, both of Carmel, Ind.; and a sister, Jane Thomas of Strasberg, Ohio.

He was preceded in death by his father and a brother.
