

MRS. J. J. FARMER DIES JUST
ONE YEAR AFTER ACCIDENT

2-30-1909
Mrs. J. J. Farmer of Pleasant Township Succumbs to Effects of Asphyxiation Year Ago Today.

Just one year ago today Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Farmer of Pleasant township had a narrow escape from asphyxiation by coal gas from their stove.
Neither ever fully recovered from the effects, and Mr. Farmer (who was generally known among his neighbors as "Polk" Farmer) was buried the day before Thanksgiving. Yesterday Mrs.
Farmer passed away, having been in a serious condition ever since the terrible accident. No arrangements have been made for the funeral yet.
