

Last Rites August 1 For Ray Hinegardner

Funeral services for Ray Hinegardner, 75, a Malcom resident most all of his life, were held Saturday, Aug. 1, at two o'clock at Bramer Funeral Home in Brooklyn. Robert W. Seath, minister of the Madison Church of Christ, officiated and Mrs. Ed Bartachek was organist.

Burial was in Ivy Hill cemetery with Fred Beck, Sonny Schneekloth, Lyle Bauman, Ward Puls, Ralph Wentzel and Wayne McClure serving as pallbearers. In charge of flowers were Mrs. Josephine Schneekloth, Mrs. Ella Mae Griffith and Mrs. Kathryn Cummings. Military graveside rites were accorded by the Francis Gallagher post of the American Legion.

The son of John and Matilda Hinegardner, he was born May 10, 1889, at Malcom and died July 29, 1964, at his home in Malcom. He had served with the national guard on the Mexican border and served with B.J. Kearney's company in France during World War I. He was a member of the Francis Gallagher post of the American Legion.

He is survived by two sisters and two brothers. They are Mrs. James Humes of Malcom, a twin sister; Mrs. Genevieve Decker of Malcom, with whom he made his home; Carl Hinegardner of Newton and Harold Hinegardner of Grinnell.

Preceding him in death were his parents; two sisters, Mrs. Cecil Knutson and Mrs. Virgie Young, and two brothers, Garlan and Clifford Hinegardner.
