Funeral services for George G. Iberg, 78, were held Friday, Dec. 2, at Rochester, Minn., and burial was in Oakwood cemetery there. Mr. Iberg died at his Rochester home Nov. 30.

Survivors include his wife, Thilda, of the home; two sons, Lowell Iberg, New York City, and Henry Iberg, Rochester; three grandsons; a sister and a brother in California, and another brother in Oregon.

George Iberg was born in Alma, Wis., Dec. 9, 1882, and spent his early life in Rochester before coming to Montezuma where he operated a general store for 25 years before returning to Rochester.

Ken Cox recalls that the drygoods and shoe store of Moore, Iberg and Young was located where now is Rabenold's Department Store. Later they closed out and Iberg established a shoe store where the state liquor store is located. Henry Iberg and Ken were high school classmates, and Lowell was widely known as a violinist.
