

Walker Cleveland

Mrs. Lineweaver Services Friday

5/17/23
Mrs. Floy Lineweaver, 89, died early Wednesday morning at the Brookhaven Nursing Home in Brooklyn.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lineweaver will be held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Grace United Methodist Church in Brooklyn, with the Rev. J. Arthur Eveland, pastor of the church, officiating.

Friends may call at the Nevenhoven Funeral Home until 12 noon Friday, and hereafter at the church.

Burial will be in Brooklyn's I.O.O.F. Cemetery.

Floy Lineweaver Services Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Floy E. Lineweaver, 89, of Brooklyn, who died early Wednesday morning at the Brookhaven Nursing Home, were held at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Grace United Methodist Church in Brooklyn, with the Rev. J. Arthur Eveland, pastor of the church, officiating.

Organist was Ed Bartachek, and pallbearers included Gordon Osborn, Horace Davidson, Dean Montgomery, Elver Roudabush, Robert Roudabush, and Fred Van Renterghem. Burial was in the I.O.O.F. Cemetery, with the Nevenhoven Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

The daughter of Andrew J. and Emma Blanchard Davidson, she was born May 3, 1883, in Brooklyn. She was a graduate of the Cedar Rapids Business College. On Jan. 10, 1907, she was married to Walker Cleveland Lineweaver in the home of her parents in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Lineweaver was a member of the Grace United Methodist Church for 69 years. She was also a member of the Pythian Sisters Lodge and the Gleeful Workers Club.

Survivors include one son, Kenneth of Brooklyn; a daughter, Mrs. August (Vada) Van Renterghem; three sisters, Mrs. William (Ada) F. Drury of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Arthur (Edna) Oxley of Jackson, Tenn., and Mrs. Ralph (Nellie) White of Melbourne, Iowa; one brother, Rex Davidson of Red Oak, Iowa; six grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Lineweaver was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, who died in 1961; one infant daughter, Beulah Edith; and one brother and one sister.