THE GRINNELL HERALD

Grinnett, Jows, Thesday, Jan. 5, 1897.

lay of

-Mrs. Juniette (Cook) Phelps was born in New Haven, Vermont, April 30, 1813, where she was married January 1, 1839; thus the day of her burial was the lifty-eighth anniversary of her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Phelps sought a western home first in Wisconsin in 1851. After reignining in that state three years, they were induced, through the influence of their former neighbor, Mr. J. B. Grinnell, to come to this new softlement, where they arrived in 1851. Here they built up a home which became one of the most powerful influences in the making of Grionell. The home over which Mrs. Phelps presided was a conter of social, intellectual and religious influence. In her home the Grinnell Congregational Church was organized. Three months after the organization, she became a member and retained her membership up to the time of her death. Her life in Clainnell was unobtrusive, but useful in the highest degree. She was neighborly when neighbors were few; belpful when many were weak; hopeful when others were discouraged; happy in the midst of trying experiences. She gave freely of her substance and her labor to strengthen every good work, especially in the building up of this church; and she remained a comfort to her children far beyond the ordinary age of man. About ten years ago she removed to Chicago, where she died last Wednesday, aged 83 years and 8 months. The burial was in Hazelwood, the funeral services being held at the Stone Church, Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Prof. L. F. Parker, an old time family friend, conducted the service, speaking fittingly of the useful Christian life of the deceased. Former friends and neighbors sang songs of peace in the triumph of a Christian life, and loving hands tenderly Iaid the body at rest by the side of ther late husband. Children present from Chicago were L. A. Phelps, Loyal C. Phelps and B. B.