Mrs. Sarah L. Phipps.

Mrs. Sarah L. Phipps died at her home in Rock creek township Saturday evening. She was buried from the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek was to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of Book Creek to be a second of the Bantist church of the Bantist Baptist church of Rock Creck yesterday afternoon at one o'clock. Interment was in the Rock Creek cemetery.