

Stricken When About C-H To Leave Hospital 2-2-74 26

Instead of returning from the hospital strong and well as he had expected, last Friday, Wm. A. Smith, of Brooklyn, stricken by a sudden heart attack just as he was preparing to leave for home, passed away Friday evening. Mr. Smith had undergone an operation in St. Francis Hospital some time ago. The operation was a success, the patient improved normally and had apparently entirely recovered. Friday his relatives came up from Brooklyn to accompany him home and he was just looking after the last business details when stricken down.

Mr. Smith spent his active life as a farmer in Madison township, but retired some time ago and has been a resident of Brooklyn.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from the Catholic church in Haven and interment was made in Haven cemetery.
