Weaver rites held here today

(Harold)

Alma Weaver, 75, the widow of Harold E. Weaver, died of natural causes at her Gilman home Tuesday morning, Jan. 16.

Funeral services for Alma Weaver were held at 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Smith Funeral Home. Peter and Allyson Sawtell, co-pastors of the Chester-Newburg United Church of Christ-Congregational, officiated. Burial was in the Prairie View Cemetery in Gilman.

Born in Marshalltown on May 15, 1903, she was the daughter of John and Inger Tow Anderson. She attended Tama County rural schools and graduated from Gilman High School in 1922. On Sept. 13, 1922, she married Harold E. Weaver. The couple farmed southwest of Gilman for 14 years.

In 1936 they moved to a farm south of Newburg, and later took a house in Newburg, where they lived until his death in 1971. She continued to live there until 1978. She had moved to Gilman only recently, and was living in an apartment there.

She is survived by two sons, Vernon D. Weaver of Davenport and Derald Weaver of Newburg; three daughters, Mrs. Robert (Doris) Logsdon of Sioux City, Mrs. Donald (Joyce) Humphrey of rural Kellogg, and Mrs. Harold (Darlene) Clark of Grand Island, Neb.; and 11 grandchildren.

Preceding her in death were her husband and three brothers, Albert, Irwin and Clarence Anderson.
