Wiltamuth rites held

Col. Ralph Wiltamuth, 89, a veteran officer of World War I and World War II, died Dec. 13 at St. Joseph Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz.

Funeral services were held in the chapel at Arlington National Cemetery. Burial was at the gravesite of his wife, Pearl Harris Wiltamuth, and his son, Col. Ralph Harris Wiltamuth.

He attended Grinnell College and West Point. He served in Hawaii, the Philippines, Africa and the European theaters in both world wars, retiring from the regular Army in 1946. He had lived in Phoenix since 1957.

Survivors include one son,
Richard Wiltamuth of Seattle, Wash., and three grandchildren.
